A word from the Lord

“My people do not understand Me. They do not know who I am. They no longer fear Me in anyway. I have been silent long enough. I have watched as I have sent forth My prophets who have spoken My warnings by faith. I have been hoping with all hope My people would listen and repent. Now My power and glory is being released to My prophets and others that will be seen when My anointed ones speak calling out the sins of a people claiming Me and of churches claiming to worship Me and doing My will. My people who claim Me are lairs. Churches claiming Me are harlots having made and are always ready for the worldly things that satisfy their flesh. My anointed ones will speak and harvest the ones I have marked. Then I will consume the rebellious ones who deny Me yet claiming Me. Those that are left will become the enemies of My Church killing My people in My name.

The harvest is great and My workers are few. I am God. It will be by My power that all will be done. My heavenly army will be among My anointed ones. I will tell them to go they will stand and speak but it will be My heavenly army of My angles that will do the work. These are the latter days of the latter rain of the anointing without measure. My Church will command My army by the Holy Ghost to put things in order. Woe unto those who oppose My works I have sent forth.

The church empires ruled by Satan will crumble. In great anger they will arise against My works and My Church. They will be the flesh man with the mark of flesh being dead in the spirit. They will be willing servants of the beast because they worship the flesh of man. They are reprobates being blind, deaf and dumb. I have made them this way that I may destroy them when I come.

I warn you My faithful ones that I have called and the ones that come out of the harlot churches, your preparation will be a quick work. You will suffer for My names sake and many of you will die at the hands of those who serve the beast. You will be overcomers receiving your crown of life and great are the rewards laid up in heaven. The second death will have no power over you.

I ask you this day. Will you chose to serve Me or will you chose to serve the world? Blessings or curses and life or death are yours to be had. My word is truth and it will be fulfilled. My Church will be made ready as the nations rage and the earth vomits forth. I have greater plans for men that have not yet been revealed. These are plans of promises to be filled and the rewards to be given. I created the entire universe for immortal bodies like My own. Who will be faithful and walk with Me for ever doing the will of the My Father. Man of this earth if you only knew the plans laid out from the foundation of creation. Only by My Father's order of things may they be had." Amen.
