Nothingness

In a dream on December 26, 2002 I saw the inter-workings of a large church staff during midweek work day. The people in the offices there were shuffling paper from office to office. There was no joy among the staff. They were watching to see who had the checkbook. They all thought they had the authority to keep the checkbook in their office. There was a man from the church that was running and running with no destination. I was working in the fishing department. I had invented some type of a new reel for fishing. The leaders of the church were excited about reeling them in. On a copy machine located outside one of the offices sat a young man smoking. One of the leaders of the church was smoking in the break room. The man who was running came into the break room. The church leader sent him back to continue his running.

The Holy Spirit pointed out to me that works of nothingness was going on. There was no love or truth between the staff. The leader was running with the church program. They wanted a better marking plan to increase attendance. The leader was sinning and tempting others on the staff to sin. No kingdom work was being doing. Webster's defines nothingness as—[1 : the quality or state of being nothing: as a : NONEXISTENCE b : utter insignificance c : DEATH 2 : something insignificant or valueless 3 a : VOID, EMPTINESS b : a metaphysical entity opposed to and devoid of being and regarded by some existentialists as the ground of anxiety.
