

May 2, 2006

In my prayer closet this day I was walking and praying in the Spirit. Then I was singing in the Spirit. As I sang my spirit I became grieved and began weeping. The anointing came upon me and I could not stand. As I lay on the floor I cried and cried and I asked the Lord what is the matter. The Lord said sing again and I did and cried even more. Then the Lord gave me the interpretation of what I was singing. This interpretation is what the conversation will be on judgment day between professing Christians walking in sin and the Lord.

Oh my God, oh my Lord

Why have you slain me with your sword.

Oh My child, oh My child

I heard you crying out loud.

But you My child, you listened not running wild.

Oh my God, oh my Lord

Please forgive and forget when I listened not.

Oh My child, oh My child

You repented not.

It is too late for in death you were in sin &

I cannot forgive you again.

Oh my God, oh my Lord

Is there anything I can do.

Oh My child, oh My child

It is too late for in death your judgment is set.

Workers of iniquity you have been and without repentance you did not win.

Like the wind it blew away, gone for ever, for I never heard you say:

Oh my God, oh my Lord

Please forgive me as I repent before my life on earth is spent.

Oh My child, oh My child

Now you see by your choices with Me you will never be.

Lost for ever in the lake of fire even if it is not what you desire.

I am God and My Son I sent that by His name

you must confess and repent.

Then obey My word and Spirit and a new heart to you I will give.

Then you won't be separated from Me on that day

when your life on earth fades away.
