This is the dream from last night. As I awaked this morning the Lord started speaking and gave me the interpretation without my asking.

There was four of us in the dream traveling down the highway of life. We became lost as to where we were. The maps we had did not show our location. As we tried to exit the area the road ended at a high bluff. Where the bluff ended a deep ravine began and went on for miles. We split into pairs to try and find our way. Two of us ended up in a small town that had only one building. It resembled a hotel with a check in counter. The two of us approached the counter and tried to get the attention of the clerk but was ignored. We then looked for maps they had that we might find our way. The maps we found were limited to that area only with no exits or highways listed. Soon the other two of our group returned and found us. They were excited to what they found in the area. The clerk then joined those two in their excitement and showed them around the hotel and the area outside. The two of us that were still looking opened the door to exit. As I looked back inside, I saw old antique gambling machines. They were huge in size and finished in beautiful wood cabinets. Each machine had a handle on the side to pull. The dream ended.

Here is what the Lord spoke. "As you travel along my path don't enter into the churches of this age. They are dead end places with no future for themselves just as the Jew's religion of my days on earth were lost. Those who enter in and stay have lost their way on the road I selected for them. They have no roadmap to maturity and know not where they are going. They will fall into the ditch. They only have programs of chance within their walls. They listen not to the Spirit and make the word of God none effect by their traditions. Those who enter and stay are deceived by what they see and hear. Wait until I send you into the churches to speak my truths for they will be ready to see and hear at that time.”
