What follows was spoken to me by the Lord over three days. God's long suffering and patience never ends for His children that they may be who they are to be. Christ's death on the cross opened the doors to heavenly places for us if we will obey the commands of The Father, The Son and The Holy Ghost written in the Word of God and spoken from the throne room of heaven. Heed the words of God and repent that you may be barely saved on the day of your redemption when Jesus Christ appears at the sound of the last trump.

"My people who love Me and obey Me are My remnant I have called and set aside. These are My children. They are My Church in the wilderness. They have no building to meet in. They stand alone with Me watching and listening that they may do My will. Their deeds are unknown to the masses. The light within them will shine brightly in the days to come reveling My truths to make My Church ready that I may come.

Change is coming to this nation. Change is coming to this earth. Change is coming to the heavens. Change will be before I come, when I come and after I come. What is will no longer be and what is to be will be the opposite of what was. That is change. I am still calling out change, repent and obey My calling. Change and be one of mine in the wilderness.

Where is that wilderness? It is before you at all times. You live in it and work in it. It is the unsaved of the earth and it is those professing Me but disobey My commands.

Interlude

November 15, 2004

The world is the wilderness a place of darkness and wickedness. My people must live in the world but they don't let the world in them.

I warn you again. You who are of the world repent to be saved. You of the church world repent. Both of you quit your works of iniquity and do My will by obeying My word. The end of the world is coming soon. All of the earth and the heavens above it will be destroyed. What do you prize your possessions or eternal life? Just as the children of Israel prized their worldly things and repented not, you follow their examples. Repent I say to you. Repent you say. I have professed Jesus. I obey the church teachings of what they say I must do to be saved. Repent I say for you have not read My word to find the truth and obey that truth. I know you will not heed the examples of the children of Israel. I am doing to you what I did unto them. How many must die as I judge you? How many died when I judged Israel and Judah? I change not. Repent now I say that you may have eternal life. I warn you and even if you repent you will suffer the fire of My judgments by the seeds you have sown. But in the end you will be saved.

Think not that I don't know your hearts. You can hide nothing from me. Repent and be judged now and not with the world. Repent and be My Church I am coming for. Be My Church in the wilderness being ready to assemble yourselves at My command that you may stand by My blood and the word of your testimony loving your lives not unto death. Death and destruction is upon you the earth and the heavens. What if you die in death and destruction today? Your name can and will be erased from My book of life if you repent not of your disobedience to My word lying about who you are in Christ. Remember who died in the wilderness because of rebellion and unbelief never having their day of rest? Where do you think you stand with your day of rest in rebellion and unbelief? Repent that you may live. Remember a majority of 1000, 10,000, or a 100,000 Christians thinking they have salvation will be wrong as they walk in disobedience to My word. All their works will be works of iniquity on the day they stand before Me. Repent you blind and deaf ones to be My Church as I bring this nation to it's knees in judgment. I will bruise the spirit of this nation but I will not kill it. Why? The answer is the same reason I destroyed Jerusalem. I am God. Repent and walk in holiness with Me in spirit and truth.

Interlude

November 16, 2006

Repent. Be My hidden Church in the wilderness. Don't be the wilderness professing Me in rebellion and disobedience." Amen.
