In this dream, I came home. In the house were guests with many children. The children were unruly (a lack of discipline or incapacity for discipline and often connotes waywardness or turbulence of behavior). Our house was in chaos with clothes scattered though out the house. All the rooms had makeshift beds for the children. It was time for bed, but the children would not settle down. The parents took some of the children outside and later brought them back in trying to get them to go to sleep. My wife had hidden herself in a closet to get away from the noise to sleep. I tried to sleep, but of no avail. I finally got up and got a 12 inch ruler and started disciplining the children by swatting them on the hands and wrists. The parents challenged me and told me not to discipline their children. I got in their face and told them to pack up their belongings and take the children and leave now. I woke up.

I asked the Lord about the dream. He said—“The house is the churches today. They are unruly refusing to accept My discipline or guidance. That I would be sent in to get in their face with the truth the Lord wants spoken that they will know their sins and the path they are on.”

Revelation 3:19 19 As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. (KJV)
