This message today from the Lord is of no surprise. The Lord started showing me over a week ago about the first part of the message below. A few days ago the Lord began showing me those that the Lord speaks about in the second part of His message. Again this was a hard message for me to record from the Lord. As I began to murmur, I repented thinking what happened to Jonah. Please read prayerfully letting God direct and guide you each day of your life on this earth.

Those Called Out and They Came Out

"I address the ones I have called out and they came out. With My gifts I gave them, the dreams, the visions and the hearing of My speaking to them, they are no longer humble servants. I cry for them seeing what they have become. How can I use them now that they stand on high pedestals. Their love for their brothers and sisters has grown cold. Their eyes are the eyes of accusers. Their mouths send out the words of a bragger. Their ears hear what their mouths speak and they love it. They have become PROUD thinking they have special favor with Me.

Listen you proud ones. It is not to late and the day has not ended. I say examine yourselves. Examine what you are thinking when you see with your eyes. Listen to the words your mouth speaks and see if those words line up with My words. Ask yourself after you examine your actions and works, have I become proud. I want and need you in the days to come. But I cannot use you as planned if you are proud. Just repent on bended knees for forgiveness letting go of your proud ness. If necessary, separate yourself from those you have been fellowshipping with if they remain proud. Remember each must work out their own salvation with fear and trembling.

Now a word to those I called out and you came out. Over time you have failed to continue on the path I set your feet upon. You have not quit. Yet it is like you have sat down and failed to get up. Arise I say. Arise and claim and take back the faith you have slowly laid down over time. Arise and walk as you did in the beginning. Let the light of who is within you shine again. Remember greater is He that is in you than he that is in the world. You have taken you eyes off of the one who died for you. Arise and focus your eyes and your heart upon on the one that is coming again.

I need all that I have called out. Prepare daily, stay prepared and stand with your whole armor on. The day will come and the call will go out. The proud and the ones whose oil is almost gone will hear that call also. They can't answer because they were not pleasing in My site. Examine, repent and prepare because I need you." Amen.
